All Things Considered (Xist Classics) G. K. Chesterton
A Collection of Chesterton's Essays and Opinions

"Blessed are they who have not seen and yet have believed: a passage which some have considered as a prophecy of modern journalism." - G.K. Chesterton, All Things Considered

G.K Chesterton is a perfectionist - although not that fond of the modern meaning of success - realizing the passing nature of his ideas. Yet he did gather all his papers written for London Daily News in the book called All Things Considered. He laments for being much too serious in the topics he covers but he still has the ability to present the mundane in a comical, ironic perspective. And how about religion, the idea of success and fairy tales? Are journalists more like fairies?
