African Americans Who Made a Difference (Grades 4-8) Liza Charlesworth

Part of a series of books that combines vital curriculum support with the versatility and time-saving benefits of photocopiable material. Each book covers a specific area of the curriculum through worthwhile activities designed to develop skills and understanding. Each of the English books provides a collection of lively activities designed to support the programmes of study for the English curriculum. The activities can be used either as part of structured English sessions or as individual learning aids for specific language skills. This book provides activities that aim to develop children's ability to give and receive instructions and to enhance their questioning skills. The activities are designed for children at Key Stage 1 and are based on the learning requirements of AT1 in speaking and listening.
